

Why Data Experts Choose to Work at Artemis

Artemis Health attracts the most talented, dedicated employees in our industry. Our employees come to Artemis from other benefits analytics companies, and they boast hundreds of years of combined experience. They value the innovation, collaboration, and creativity that Artemis brings to the benefits data space. Here's why they're choosing Artemis.

Tara Colussi, Senior Analytic Advisor

Formerly at IBM Watson Health (Truven) and HDMS

"I like that Artemis is dynamic and growing. Many benefits data vendors have become rigid and I like that Artemis truly has a culture of growth, transparency and true teamwork."

Neil Austin, Director of Product Analytics

Formerly at IBM Watson Health (Truven/Medstat), Optum and Nuna

"I believe Artemis' support is best in class. The In-app chat (so cool) and the new Community are good examples of this. The bottom line is the overall responsiveness—clients truly are first in mind and why we are all here."

Scott Guichard, Director of Solutions Engineering

Formerly at Nuna and HDMS

"Artemis' product is modern, designed specifically for this market, and the company has the support and desire to dominate this market. The commitment [to the product] is obvious to me, and I see that Artemis is going to have a very strong product evolution."

Andrew Paich, Senior Data Manager

Formerly at IBM Watson Health (Truven)

"Many of us on the Artemis data management team come from competitors, so we bring a ton of experience. But Artemis doesn't want us to copy the old way of doing things. We're empowered and encouraged to use our experience to completely reinvent data management, improving both speed and quality."
